Online MLM Secrets

Welcome to our MLSP Online Mastermind System!

The MLSP leadership is comprised of some of the biggest names in the mlm industry. Six-figure, multiple six-figure and even 7-figure residual income earners and, amazingly, most of them have used the relatively new MyLeadSystemPro "attraction marketing" platform to build a huge chunk of their incomes. The question is:

Do They Reveal Their Online MLM Secrets?

The biggest challenge for everyone who gets online and joins a new program in the hope of really taking their business to the next level is a lack of a true, proven, step-by-step duplicatable system.

Do this. Then this. And now this.

But my goal, over the next few weeks and months, is to literally dig into all the top producer's business and uncover all of their online mlm secrets - what they do, how they do it, what tools they use and how often they use them.

- What, specifically, did David Wood do to personally sponsor HUNDREDS of people into the MLSP system and, at the same time, add 207 people to his primary program in less than four months?
- How does a Cedrick Harris or Tracy Walker consistently walk away with five-figure monthly commission checks?
- Or a Larry Beacham go from ZERO to HERO, earning over $10,000 per month in less than a year?

We are about to find out. I guarantee it.

Because while the internet provides one of the greatest direct marketing platforms ever in the history of the world... it also records everything and makes incredible easy to reverse engineer and uncover literally every move any one makes online.

Online mlm secrets be damned!

Okay. Let get down to business. The first thing I did after joining myleadssystempro was:

- Set Up My Profile Payment Options
- Ordered a Domain Name
- Worked Through GET STARTED Set Up
- Watched Orientation Videos
- Sign Up for the Forum

Next I went immediately to the leader board, pulled the list of the top 10 producers of all time. I started a .txt file on each of them.

This dossier, in time, will reveal all their online mlm secrets and create a literal step-by-step road road map to the treasure chest.

I'm now working on doing a quick, brief research on all the top producers. Starting with the top five. I am recording their web site addresses, blog addresses, facebook, twitter, Linkin, youtube channels and more. Every 'footprint' I find I am recording.

One I have a nice fleshed out overview, then I'll be looking for commonalities.

- Do all the top producers have a blog?
- Do they all have multiple MLSP domains?

- Do they all offer free training via opt-in?
- Do they all offer teleconferences?
- Do they all do article marketing? Video? Press Releases?

The idea here is if we find that ALL the top producers share a common approach, use and recommend the same tools, present MLSP in a similar fashion - then that is EXACTLY where we will start. If they all have a standalone blog that brands their NAME... we should immediately go set up a blog that brands our name. Make sense?

So that's where I've started and I've already learned one great online mlm secret from "spying on the leaders" already.

In the beginning, when they all first started in MLSP - they simply emailed their lists, created a few quick blog posts, made an announcement on twitter and facebook and, generally, just got busy doing something.

So do something!

This first (well, actually SECOND) post is my effort of "doing something."

The first post was designed to target and RANK for the keyword phrase - Online MLM Mastermind System - which gets a few thousand searches per month with very little SEO competition. So since I wanted to create a quick opt-in for the MLSP team right away - I configured the post to serve a double benefit. ALWAYS looks for points of leverage. Always.

For example, notice I also created a video and uploaded it to my Rob Fore Youtube Channel. The reason is when that post is viewed, it will automatically increase the video views on youtube and automatically make the video rank higher in the search results. Leverage. Always think leverage.

This post was designed share my first steps AND rank for the keyword "online mlm secrets".

So what's the next step?

I will not go copy these two posts and spin them to make unique copies. I will then distribute these unique copies to article directories and blogs. There are certain tools I use to make this happen. But before I share those... I want to see if I can spot what the top producers are using and why?

Bless and be blessed,
